CONVERENCE WITH CHAIRMAN HARRITY IS REGARD TO PENNSYLVANIA PATRONAGE-SEEK-ING PARDON FOR A MAN IN THE DISTRICT JAIL-A NEW CHIEF URHER APPOINTED.

This has been a busy day for the President although his callers were few and the ante rooms were deserted. Senators and members rho called with the hope of seeing him were told that Monday is the day set apart by the President for consideration of matters demandng his uninterrupted attention and that only those with whom he had made appointments for the day would be announced. Early in the morning came Mr. William F

Harrity, chairman of the national democratic committee, with whom the President wants to iscuss some matters relating to Pennsylvania patronage. Mr. Harrity remained some time and wore a pleased expression of countenance when he left. Mr. Harrity was accompanied by Mr. W. U. Hensel, attorney general of the state. PREPARING THE NOMINATIONS

The preparation of the nominations to be sent to the Senate today occupied a large part of the President's attention during the forencon and requent emissaries from cabinet officials came over from the departments bearing large square envelopes containing the papers of aspirants for the offices under consideration. One of the callers at the White House, who dropped in incidentally, was Rev. D. G. Cranconsulship. Mr. Crandon is a man of varied attainments. He combines a call to the Unitarian pulpit with the ability to impersonate Richelieu on the dramatic stage. WANT PARSON FOR A MAN IN JAIL. Mr. E. B. Hay and Mr. Simon Wolf called to file some additional papers in the appeal for a pardon in the case of H. G. Altman, now serving a sentence of sixty days in the District jail.

Congressman Stone called with Col. Denham of Kentucky, but did not see the President. Col. Denham is chairman of the democratic committee of the eleventh Kentucky district and wants to ascertain what course will be followed in the distribution of patronage in that section. He doesn't want anything himself, but he is besieged for indorsements of applications. If his indorsement is to have any weight he will exercise due discretion, but, otherwise, he will cheerfully back every candidate and then go fishing.

HIS MAIDEN OPINION. Judge Jackson Delivers an Opinion on th

A PUBLIC BECEPTION.

Customs Administrative Act. Justice Jackson today rendered his maiden opinion as a justice of the United States Sureme Court. By the opinion the court affirmed the judgment of the Circuit Court for southern New York in the case of Passavant & Co. against the United States, involving an important question under the customs administrative act. Passavant & Co. imported some gloves which were entered at a certain valuation. The customs officert when they appraised the gloves increased the declared value by more than 10 per cent. The importers appealed first to one of the general appraisers and then to the board of general appraisers, with the result that the customs officers were each time sustained. The collector thereupon assessed duty at 50 per cent, the rate fixed by the McKinley bill for gloves of the value found, and in addition levied a further duty or penalty of 2 per cent of the total appraised value for each one cent of excess over the entered value. The importers wished to appeal the case to the courts and thus the question presented itself, Have the circuit courts of the United States under the provisions of the customs administrative act any jurisdiction on

The circuit court and this court hold that under the administrative act the findings of the board of general appraisers as te the dutiable value of merchandise made after a full hearing are final and conclusive and not reviewable by the courts. and conclusive and not reviewable by the courts.

The court also holds valid the penalty provided where goods are appraised more than 10 per cent above the entered value.

February 25, 1893. The questions propounded and the replies of the attorney thereto are as follows: Q. 1. "Am I to understand that this act refers to the act of May 6, 1890? Where the property was involved in suits of law or equity you should require a certificate from the clerk of the court where the cause was brought, under seal, giving the title of the cause, whether in law or equity; that the records of the court show that the lots or property describing them were involved in said suit; that said suit was brought in such court, giving the date and setting forth the purpose for which it was brought, the date of its termination; that a final decree was entered and in whose favor it vests the title of the lots, in what parties, naming them.

Q. 3. Does the law give litigants and minors who were owners of property on which taxes Q. 3. Does the law give litigants and minors who were owners of property on which tances were in arrears and unpaid at the time of the passage of the act of May 6, 1890, but who have subsequently disposed of their interests, the same rights as though they had continued ownership, that is to say, would it give purchases the right to pay arrearages of taxes at 6 per centum up to the time litigants and minors had disposed of their property?

Motwithstanding this not is so inartistically drawn as to convey the idea that the subject of the verb "may" being the words "all persons" would carry the idea that purchasers such as are mentioned in this interrogatory might be beneficiaries under the act, still I am of the opinion that the real intent of the act was to benefit minors and I shall therefore hold that it is restricted in that sense to minors as beneficiaries and it should be so treated by the District government.

Several wi nesses tor the defendant falled to answer wh n called, and the defendant offered in didence papers found in Kramer's trunk with advertisements, some of which were introduced for the purpose of showing that Kramer was fealous of his wife and her going with men, &c.

Objection was made, and the court after examining them said they were not near or material enough to meet this issue and refused to admit them.

ARNOLD TESTIFIES.

The defendant, Arnoid, took the stand and stated that his full name was Theodore G. W. Arnoid and that he was fortystwo years of age.

Born in Hardin county, Ky. He went to Texas in 1831 and came to this city in 1887 and entered the money order office in 1888 and astended the Columbian Law School and graduated. In the summer of 1891 he lived on N street and after taking a trip west returned in October and boarded at Mrs. Cullins' on 6th street. His trip west was for the purpose of selecting a place to practice law. He met Laura Bowman at Mrs. Cullins'. Did not know her by the name of Kramer. He never had an introduction to her and his acquaintance with her was not familiar or intimate. He had been in 181 health rice and many the warf or the first lieutenant; punior grade; Lieut, (junior grade) Armoy of Virginia, to be assistant surgeons; the marine howaits average.

He never had an introduction to her and his acquaintance with her was not familiar or intimate. He had been in ill health since 1884 from a cold contracted by sieeping on the ground on the bank of a creek in Texas. After Laura left Mrs. Cullin's he on some occasions waiked along the street with her, his work being on E street and hers on 13th street. When he left here it was on sick leave, on the certificate of Dr. Harrison for January 4 and February 6, 1892, He left on January 16, not having sufficient funds until the 15th. He obtained in the fall a general traveling agency of the Order of Ægis, dated November 24, 1891. He left here January 16 and returned March 1, and with his wife took board at 628 Pennsylvania svenue.

HE LEARNED OF HER MARRIAGS.

He knew Laura Bowman was at 725 11th street; saw her there in May; learned about Mr. R. F. Simms was at police headquarter that time that she was a married woman. He had no idea before then that she was married. She at that time detailed the circumstances of her marriage. She made a statement in which she said she did not consider that she was married and asked his opinion and asked his services in a suit annulling the marriage, and he promised to investigate it and refer her to an attorney if the facts warranted it. Since he learned that she was married there had been nothing criminal between them. Witness saw her sister on the subject and consuited with Mr. Tucker, as did Mrs. Kramer and her sister, and Mr. Tucker took charge of the case. This was in April. He heard from them of acts tending to show that Mrs. Kramer's and found notices in the Post and Syar. In May he had a number of interviews with Mrs. Kramer and her sister as to annulling the marriage. He conversed with Mrs. Kramer of the Senate was discussed in the executive that time that she was a married woman. He this afternoon to answer a warrant sworn out Mrs. Kramer and her sister as to annulling the marriage. He conversed with Mrs. Kramer about twenty-five minutes before the shooting. Mrs. Kramer had been to see him at the money order office several times. It was not uncommon for ladies to call to see the clerks. They had reported to him the assaults made by Kramer. He first knew Kramer on June 7, but had seen him before and believed him to be Kramer. On June 7 Mrs. Kramer having been informed that Kramer was hanging about her house and she being afraid to go out, he went with her from 11th street to her sister's on 6th street. At the corner of 11th and H streets Mrs. Kramer said, "Lord, there is Kramer." Then he left and Kramer approached him. He had been informed by Mrs. Kramer that Kramer had threatened that there was a man going with her he intended to kill. The witness asked if he would attack him. She said that Kramer would not attack him in front. Kramer came up, saying that he would go with them, and he believed that his purpose was to shoot or stab him. Witness never carried a revolver this side of the Mississippi river. Witness tried to frighten Kramer back, and he did, for he went back to the officer. He threatened Kramer, but could not tell the words he used. Saw Mrs. Kramer the next morning to learn the result of the meeting, and she informed him that Kramer threatened to kill him on sight. When Kramer said witness was living with his wife he said Kramer was a liar. Witness feared that his life was in danger and the next day he borrowed a pistol from Cole at the office, who gave him some cartridges. He loaded the pistol, putting in five cartridges. It was a seven shooter. It was on the 8th of June he got the pistol and carried it then till the shooting whenever he was on the street. are treated as if under indictment, or at least under suspicion of being frauds. Another complaint made in a whisper is that Mr. Cleveland is too exacting with them and demands an exhibition of unselfish and patriotic principle in excess of anything demanded by their constituents. One Senator, it is declared, was given a lecture for having appointed his son clerk to the Senate committee of which he has just been made chairman. Mr. Cleveland is said to have told the Senator that action of that sort indicated that he regarded his own selfish interest as more to be considered than the good of the service, and that in view of that his recommendations would not have much weight as to appointments to be made by the executive. May she rest in peace.

pected that the checks will be matied to the subscribers. A meeting of the executive committee will be held this evening, but it will not be the final meeting, as the affairs are not quite ready for settlement.

The estimate made by ex-Commissioner Raum of the constructive cost to the government of the inaugural ball attracted some attention among the members of the committee. While the method by which the conclusion is reached is not looked upon as of much importance still there is very general acquiescence in the conclusion that there ought to be a building erected in this city large enough for affairs of this character. It is thought that if the matter is taken up by the citizens in carnest that a suitable building would be erected where the next inaugural ball could be held, and in the interval conventions and all hinds of public gatherings could be provided for. oc16-L.m, w-17
